

Welcome

HELLO  Kia Ora

to the Anglican Parish of Upper Riccarton-Yaldhurst

St Peter's
St Luke's

3rd July 2022
Nurse Maude

Broken hearts

Our hearts are broken when we think of a mum walking from the bus to her house after work mercilessly killed in Cheyenne St. She had done nothing to deserve this. Along with our prayers and aroha for her family, we also need, although it's hard, to spare a thought for a man so deranged that he should do such a thing.

This Sunday is our Nurse Maude Sunday. Nurse Maude is important to us because she is buried in our cemetery and our chapel is dedicated to her: "the Nurse Maude Chapel of Compassion." Nurse Maude and Jesus remind us to be compassionate. Compassion, literally means to feel with: Com - passion. To feel another's pain with them is to want to stand alongside them. It makes us angry that something so dreadful has happened in our community. Compassion makes us want to make a difference in our world. To change things for the better. To feel another's pain as if it was our own, is a God-given gift.

~ Nick

Social Justice & the Environment.

Are you interested in issues of social justice and/or care of creation? Is this as part of your Christian commitment? We are forming a group of interested people to meet either after church and/or by Zoom. Topics for discussion will depend on who is interested. These could include responding to climate change and species loss; living more sustainably; reducing your carbon footprint; inequality and wealth disparity in Aotearoa NZ, etc. Some formats could include: a book club to focus on a particular issue for a few weeks; a workshop bringing together a range of speakers; becoming an eco-church; learning how to be an advocate on a topical issue. If this interests you, please have a chat to Rev'd Peg Riley, or email: asstpriest.stpeter@world-net.co.nz

There are lots of Matariki themed activities happening at preschool this week. The children are getting excited about our Matariki family event this Friday night which include a disco. They are helping teachers to decorate the Kowhai Room at preschool in preparation for the party.

As we head towards the end of the term next week I want to say thank you for your ongoing prayers for preschool. Please be encouraged that they do make a difference. I believe that, as God's preschool, prayer should be (and is) a foundation. One example of answered prayer is 10 new children added to our roll during the term. Thank you."
